UNIVERSITY PROGRAMS

UC Davis Extension’s Center for International Education (CIE) manages several of the university’s visiting study and research programs for international students. Our University Programs partner with more than 60 benchmark universities and government agencies in Asia, Australia, Europe and South America to attract talented students for undergraduate study and research at UC Davis on a non-degree basis.

UNIVERSITY CREDIT PROGRAMS

These short-term study and research programs allow international students from partner universities with excellent academics and strong English skills to attend UC Davis classes alongside UC Davis students. University Credit Program students receive University of California academic credit that contributes toward their own degree program requirements at their home universities.

GLOBAL RESEARCH EXPERIENCE IN ADVANCED TECHNOLOGIES (GREAT)

Participants in the GREAT Summer Research Program gain research experience in state-of-the-art laboratories under the mentorship of leading UC Davis faculty members in a wide variety of disciplines. Students are matched with UC Davis faculty based upon their preference, faculty availability and the discretion of the program faculty director. Enrollment is limited to students from select partner universities.

“The most rewarding part of this experience was the friendships I made here. It also helped me realize that I want to study math in the future. I’m not exaggerating, it changed my life.”

—Jianping Pan, Renmin University, China

“It is a great way to meet new friends and learn more about our campus.”

—Tsung-Wei Yu (David), Summer Start 2015, Taiwan

CUSTOM TRAINING PROGRAMS
The University Programs deliver customized, short-term training programs for partner universities. Past training programs have included topics such as California Agriculture, American Culture, English Language and Research Skills. YOUTH PROGRAMS

The Center for International Education at the University of California, Davis, a leader in interdisciplinary study, offers unique, fun programs specifically designed for international students ages 12-17. We introduce junior high and high school students to a world-class university campus and let them enjoy spending time exploring and learning with students from around the world.

We provide an attentive and enriching educational experience in a truly distinctive setting that allows students to take advantage of our campus' academic breadth and outside-of-the-classroom programs.

SUMMER PROGRAMS FOR INDIVIDUAL STUDENTS

Individual students may enroll in summer youth programs to expand their knowledge of English language and culture (for non-native English speakers), science and technology, and college preparation. Each program increases students’ confidence and self-reliance. Activities on the UC Davis campus, as well as program-specific field trips, are integrated into the educational experience.

For example, the English and Culture Program (for non-native English speakers) is perfect for international students wanting to improve their English language skills and understanding of American culture. The four-week program consists of English classes in the morning and facilitated language development activities in the afternoons. All-day excursions take place on Saturdays. Zhaozhong (Tony) Du: A Success Story

“Tony” Du attended the U.S. College Preparation Program as a junior in high school in China. He expressed interest in applying to a liberal arts school in the United States, so during his junior year he applied to 11 schools. Six schools accepted him—including Pratt Institute, Maryland Institute College of Art, Temple University, University of Colorado Boulder, New Jersey Institute of Technology and University of Massachusetts Amherst.

He chose the University of Massachusetts Amherst, and is currently going into his sophomore year. He is one of many who have been admitted to universities across the United States after attending the U.S. College Preparation Program. These students not only become more knowledgeable about applying to a U.S. college, but have better writing skills. They are always thrilled when they receive a letter of recommendation from the instructor after completing the program requirements.

INTERNATIONAL CUSTOM PROGRAMS

For nearly 40 years, the Center for International Education at UC Davis Extension has created custom programs for Ministries of Education and major universities. International custom programs are based on specialized knowledge from the University of California, Davis, or on a specific need utilizing knowledge from multiple institutions, including the University of California, members of industry, and the U.S. and state governments. We identify outstanding instructors to develop the highest quality curricula tailored to specific client needs. Depending on the length and content of study, students in custom programs may receive certificates of attendance, certificates of academic credit or diplomas.

Takahiro Sasaki: A Success Story
The Center for International Education’s Japanese Ag Training Program originated more than 15 years ago. Each year, trainees come for nine weeks of academic instruction in specialty fields of agriculture and agribusiness. Takahiro attended in 2008, and after returning to Japan he began a start-up vegetable farm. Due to unfortunate circumstances, the farm did not do well, but “Taka” did not give up. He decided to return to the United States where he enrolled in a community college and then eventually transferred to California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly). During his senior year, Taka reconnected with the Japanese Ag Training Program and was hired as a program interpreter. This fall Taka will officially return to student life, this time as a graduate student at UC Davis.

Our Process
You will work with one of our program coordinators to explore program options to fit your specific needs. Schedules, dates and fees will be incorporated into a written proposal. If you are working with an independent agency for administrative services, we will work with them to handle logistical details. At the conclusion of the program, our program coordinator will provide a detailed report, including academic and/or student evaluations, feedback and suggestions for improvement.

Sample Programs
English for Science and Technology, Veterinary Medicine, Foundation Year Preparation, Academic Preparation for Undergraduate and Graduate Studies, Medicine, English for Business, English for Economists and more.

Online Learning
The Center for International Education has a strong online learning portfolio. It possesses a breadth of courses and certificate programs that can be accessed throughout the world. We can also design online and hybrid programs that include online curriculum with traditional on-site instruction, based on both internal University of California strengths and current needs of international clients. Some program examples include information technology, teacher training, education, agriculture, viticulture, human resources, business and leadership, and English composition.

STUDENT SERVICES

The Center for International Education provides our students with all the support and services they need to have a successful experience. International students have access to most facilities and privileges available at UC Davis. These include libraries, wireless Internet access, sports and recreational facilities, the Memorial Union, the Student Health and Wellness Center, the Unitrans bus system and many more—sometimes with a small additional fee. We also provide students with personal assistance and advising on academic and visa issues, grade reports and continuous help-desk assistance.

Visas and Immigration Assistance

UC Davis is authorized under federal law to enroll nonimmigrant students and to manage and extend their immigration documents.

Medical Insurance

International students must have medical insurance that is valid in the United States. They must show proof of insurance coverage in English at registration (a minimum of $500,000 U.S. dollars per incident). Otherwise, students must purchase medical insurance at registration. We are currently able to provide excellent coverage at a rate of $40 per week.*

Student Health and Wellness Center

The Student Health and Wellness Center provides quality and cost-sensitive care tailored to the unique and diverse needs of students. The center provides campus health and wellness resources that enable students to successfully achieve their academic goals and promote lifelong wellness.

Smoke and Tobacco Free Campus

UC Davis is a Smoke and Tobacco Free Campus. Smoking is not allowed in campus buildings, including dormitories, or on campus property, including parking lots and rental units. Free tobacco cessation services are available to all registered students.

The Center for International Education (CIE) Housing office helps students with a variety of housing options, including homestay, apartments and dormitories (summers only).

Homestay

With a homestay arrangement you will live with a local family and experience a U.S. family lifestyle. There are many benefits to being placed with a homestay host family. The cultural experience is unmatched by any other residential placement and is an excellent way to expand your cultural and educational experience. Homestay housing arrangements are not one-size-fits all. You can choose to have your own room or you can share a room with another student. You can eat all or some of your meals with your host family. You choose the situation that best meets your needs.

Renting a Room in a Private House or Apartment

Many Davis families and student groups rent out rooms in their own homes for approximately $500-$900 per month. Renting a room is an excellent opportunity to live with others who are not part of the International Programs. Students can make these arrangements on their own once they arrive in Davis.

Dormitories

Dormitories (conveniently located near the UC Davis campus) are open to international students during the summer. Rooms come equipped with two beds, dressers and desks. Meals are provided in the campus dining halls, and membership at the Activities and Recreation Center is included.

Housing for University Groups

If you are a university or organization that will be sending a group of students, CIE Housing is here to help you arrange housing for your group. We will work with you to find the housing that best fits the needs of your specific group.

For more information about any of the above, visit our website at extension.ucdavis.edu/housing or contact the Center for International Education Housing office at ciehousing@ucdavis.edu or +1 (530) 757-8988.

The University of California, Davis, UC Davis Extension and the Center for International Education are not affiliated in any way with, and we are not endorsing, any homestay agencies. The above details are provided for informational purposes only. Students may select any company of their choosing and must make their own evaluation when selecting housing.
